DARCO

- 1 Three heel posting disks of 2°, 4° or 6° allow for varus / valgus correction
- 2 Three arch height adjustments – customized to the individual patient
- 3 Molded uprights – anatomically correct support of the lower leg
- 4 3/4 insole – supports the arch and captures the calcaneus in comfort
- 5 Straps may be cut to desired length and resealed with the DARCO Y-closure system

Body Armor® Vario

DARCO presents a new addition to its family of splints and bandages: the Body Armor® Vario ankle splint for the treatment of medial and lateral ankle disorders.

What is new is the innovative Vario concept: for the first time, the benefits of the classic double-shell splint are combined with variable heel posting disks (2°/4°/6°) for varus or valgus correction and arch height adjustments (high/medium/low). This allows customized post-operative and conservative treatment tailored to the patient's progress.

The Body Armor® Vario features a high degree of functionality with comfort during wear. The anatomically shaped stabilizing uprights and proven DARCO Y-closure system allow the foot to be positioned optimally and securely in the splint. For even greater comfort, we recommend wearing a long absorbent sock. With its low height, the splint can be worn with any laced shoes or trainers.

The variable components are checked and exchanged in agreement with a doctor or specialist retailer.
